

MS in Industrial/Organizational (I/O) Psychology

Explore one of the fastest growing careers in industries worldwide!

Interested in a career in an emerging field?

ACT's flexible, 15-month MS in Industrial/Organizational (I/O) Psychology features a strong emphasis on coaching and is aimed at those wishing to turn their experience into expertise, and expertise into leadership!

You will study organizational leadership and change, conflict resolution and management but you will combine such courses with positive psychology and well-being, creating more positive and more profitable workplaces for you and your clients and increasing your personal and professional well-being at the same time.

Discover the trends and best practices, learn how to increase your emotional intelligence and market it to advance your career in all areas of business, industry, consulting, government, health and education.

Starting Fall 2020

The program at a glance

- 36 credits
- 10 courses, including:
 - 3 coaching courses
 - 3 online courses
 - thesis
 - internship
- 5 academic terms
- 15-month program

Course structure

Academic Term 1

- Introduction to MS in Industrial/Organizational (I/O) Psychology (3 credits) - online
- MBA STAT 505: Applied Statistics for Business Decisions (3 credits) (cross-listed course)

Academic Term 2

- Psychological Testing & Measurement (3 credits) - online
- Psychology of Group Dynamics (3 credits)

Academic Term 3

- MBA-MNGT 521: Organizational Leadership & Change (3 credits) (cross-listed course)
- Positive Psychology & Well-being Coaching (3 credits) - online

Academic Term 4 & Summer Term

- Thesis (6 credits)
- Internship (6 credits)

Academic Term 5

- MBA MAN 433: Conflict Management & Resolution (3 credits)

Electives (Academic Term 4 or 5)

- Executive Coaching & Leadership Mentoring (3 credits)
- Emotional Intelligence in the Workplace (3 credits)
- Sports Coaching (3 credits)

Why enroll in the program?

- ✓ The only of its kind in Greece
- ✓ An interdisciplinary program inviting eager learners and professionals from various walks of life
- ✓ Cutting-edge courses such as positive psychology and well-being, coaching and sports coaching
- ✓ A focus on cultivating a new mindset for new results
- ✓ An important management and life skill that will help you become more self-reliant and communicate more effectively
- ✓ Online delivery of select courses for easier attendance
- ✓ Hands-on experience through internship opportunities as part of the curriculum

LEARN MORE

www.act.edu/ms-io-psychology

ACT – The American College of Thessaloniki
17 Sevenidi St. • 55535, Pylaia • Thessaloniki, Greece
Tel. +30 2310 398 398 • admissions@act.edu