

SHORT-TERM PROGRAMS

Customized short-term programs offer attendees a comprehensive and relevant perspective on a wide variety of topics spanning from business to technology to education. We can create a program on almost any topic and provide access to a variety of exciting site visits.

Programs are conducted via dynamic workshops in which participants get an opportunity to work together on group projects. Participants read scholarly journal articles and case studies then participate in interactive discussions on the topics with experts in the field. Programs are delivered by experienced facilitators with 20+ years of expertise. Facilitators help guide participants through their thorough knowledge of the subject area. Participants build upon their talent stack as they work collaboratively inside and outside of the workshops and site visits.

We take care of every detail including airport pickup and drop off, comfortable lodging, transportation to and from professional and cultural activities, as well as meals and dynamic workshops.
