" I always wanted to study abroad, but I couldn't imagine it financially. When my university added Kuala Lumpur as an option, the dream suddenly became a reality, because the cost of living is lower and I could afford the rent. During this time, I got to know a new culture, nice people and myself better. Looking back, it was the best experience I had during my studies and I would always choose to do it again. I am really grateful to have had this experience and will definitely return to Malaysia (not just for the food, haha). "
