

Study Abroad in New York, USA

St. Francis College (SFC)

About the University

Why choose St. Francis College in New York?

St. Francis College (SFC) is located in the Brooklyn Borough of New York City. It is a quick subway ride from Manhattan. At SFC you will study together with students from not only the United States, but also from all over the world. SFC offers students scholarship that reduces tuition by nearly 50%.

- The college has a wide range of academically high quality courses with comparatively low tuition fees
- The building is located right in the heart of New York (Downtown Brooklyn), but all of New York City is your Campus!
- Study together with US students in the same classes
- Small class sizes for personalized attention
- Modern campus in a high-rise building, which offers great facilities
- Housing is available in the beautiful Residence Hall on the historic Brooklyn Heights Promenade. With the difficult housing market in New York, this is an attractive option for international students
- SFC offers the opportunity to extend your time in the US with an internship
- Explore New York's highlights: Statue of Liberty, Times Square, Empire State Building, Central Park, and more

” I spent my semester abroad at St. Francis College in New York City (Brooklyn). Alongside my studies, I fully embraced international student life, participated in numerous sports and cultural events, and took the opportunity to travel within the United States. My semester abroad has been one of the most defining and rewarding experiences of my academic journey so far.

I am happy to support future students with any questions about studying abroad in the U.S., St. Francis College, or life in New York. ”
